J. Warren Ayer

THE THEME chosen for the 1933 Monrovia is indeed intriguing. It suggests orderly change, adaptation, and systematic development. With no straining of the figure of speech, the lives of people, nations, civilizations, and of the world itself, may be likened in their several phases to the changing seasons of the year. Most individuals as well as most nations aspire toward maturity, but having approached that stage, face the danger of autumnal decline and wintry numbness. To reach real maturity and to avoid as long as possible mental and emotional decline should be the aim of every thoughtful person.

The ability to adjust oneself in an orderly and dignified manner to changing conditions and to new environments is the chief purpose of education and the prime necessity for growth. While we would not minimize the importance of mastery of the fundamental processes and content of the subjects studied in our schools, we feel sure that growth and adaptation—what you become—will be vitally more important to you and to the world than what you acquire.

We congratulate the graduating class upon the completion of their work with us and of the rest of the students upon the successful conclusion of another school term. May the successive seasons bring to all of us stimulating variety of experience, orderly growth, and the ability to adjust ourselves in a constructive way to our environment.

J. WARREN AYER,

DEPARTMENTAL

ENGLISH

Teachers of the English department include: Mary Wittler, Marjorie Hitchcock, Emroy Walker, Helen Adams, Gladys Coblentz, Gertrude Morgan, Muriel Loveless, Carolyn Doty, and Mary Reagan.

LANGUAGE

Latin, French, and Spanish are the foreign languages available for those who are interested in their study. Teachers are Mabel Drummond, Sylvia Wedel, and Lewis Thomas.

MATHEMATICS

The principal aim of the mathematics department is to develop the student's reasoning power. Teachers include: Gertrude Smith, Angie Parker, Wesley Steiner, Glen Hollingsworth, Paul Edinger and Frank Pilmer.

SCIENCE

To many students, such subjects as general science, biology, physics, chemistry, and agriculture are alluring. Instructors are: R. Pfaff, P. Edinger, W. Feeler, C. Cowan, V. Ward, G. Hollingsworth, and W. Steiner.

HISTORY

Ancient, medieval and modern, United States history and American problems are the subjects embraced in this department. Teachers are: Edith Dort, Theresa Dunn, Ethel Carbaugh, William Feeler, Minnie Sexauer, and Stanley McClintic.

COMMERCIAL

The commercial department aims to prepare the student for the business world. The teachers include: Mary Thorne, Gertrude Morgan, Theresa Dunn, Minnie Sexauer, Roland Watenpugh, and Edward West.

MUSIC

Glee Club, band, orchestra, ear training, music appreciation, and harmony are the subjects offered by this department. Mrs. Potts, Mr. Van Hellen, and Mr. Scott are instructors.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

Under the direction of Wauneta Rives, Grace Russell, and Mrs. Grace Fanning, such subjects as cooking, sewing, home management, and home furnishing are taught.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Physical education plays a vital part in acquiring and keeping health. Instructors are: Thelma Yenney, Ethel Carbaugh, Marie Swenson, Verl Murray, and Eugene McAllister.

SHOP WORK

Printing, manual training, mechanical drawing, and auto mechanics are offered in shop work. Teachers include: Roy Eller, Louis Goodwin, Edgar Parmelee, and George Hester.

ART

Commercial art, art appreciation, and drawing are the subjects offered by Miss Edna Chess in the art department.

DRAMATICS

Besides giving practical experience in acting, the dramatics course develops in the student poise and grace. Mrs. Carolyn Doty is the instructor.

MISCELLANEOUS

Other instructors include: Myrtle Barrier, librarian; Lenore Kenman, librarian; Beatrice Hesse, first aid; and Marie Swenson, hygiene.

Club Activities

THE SCHOLARSHIP Society is composed of students who make ten points on their semester grades. Toward these ten points, A's count three and B's one.

At the first meeting of the Society in September, the following officers were elected: Marion Felberg, president; Mary Hope Wood, vice-president; Bob Boyd, secretary, and Elmer Larson, treasurer. Miss Edith Dort is the faculty adviser.

The election of officers was the first duty of the World Friendship Club after school started. Ivan Wilson was president; Pauline Jackson, vice-president; Bob Boyd, collector; and Velma Dunn, secretary. Mrs. Morgan is the faculty adviser.

Miss Wauneta Rives spoke to the club at the October meeting about her trip to Mexico.

In addition to being on three successive class teams, a girl must have earned 500 points for being on other athletic teams to be eligible for the Circle M. Senior girls who have 1500 points and at least an A—posture receive gold pins.

This year's officers were: Mary Marsh, president; Kathryn Mothershead, vice-president; and Margaret Dorsey, secretary-treasurer.

Every boy who has earned a varsity letter in football, basketball, track, baseball, or tennis, is eligible to join the Block M Society. The purpose of this club, primarily, is to promote athletics and good sportsmanship. Its first activity this year was the organization of the Block M Service, the members of which acted as ushers and bouncers at games and dances.

The Girls' Athletic Association is open to all high school girls interested in sports. At the first meeting of the year, the following officers were chosen: Winifred Wood, president; Mary Walker, vice-president; Coretta Graham, secretary; Doris Kinnick, treasurer.

Grace McFarland was volleyball manager in the fall quarter and, after the last game of the season, had charge of the spread.

The Junior Hi-Y is a club similar to the Hi-Y, except that its membership is made up of freshman and sophomores.

A swimming party was the outstanding meeting in the first quarter. The officers of the club for the first semester were Steve Meyers, president; John Strong, vice-president; Harry Baker, secretary; Ralph Fishman, treasurer, and Mr. Beckner, adviser.

The Hi-Y, a branch of the Y.M.C.A., is a club open to juniors and seniors in high school. The purpose of the club is to develop leadership among boys. During the first quarter, the Hi-Y had at its meetings after-dinner talks by prominent Monrovia citizens. The outstanding meeting of the quarter was a swimming party at the Pasadena Y.M.C.A. plunge.

PUPPY LOVE

By Alice Hall

It really is a grand old world,
I've just been twirled and twirled and twirled
Thru all the twists and turns of Puppy Love.
But that which is all twisted tight
Must always be untwisted quite.
I have had no letter — that is
Puppy Love.
So one day up and one day down;
One day a smile, the next a frown.
Listen well: Don't bank too much on Puppy Love.

IS MURDER A CRIME

By Robert Swain

"Do you have any pistachio?"
asked a boy who came into our ice cream store.

"No pistachio," I answered; "we only have vanilla, chocolate, straw—"

"Got any pineapple?"

"No pineapple," I said: "We have only vanilla, chocolate, strawberry."

"Well, have you any raspberry?"

"No, we don't have any raspberry.
We have only vanilla, chocolate, strawberry, and —"

"Well, give me black walnut then."

"We don't have any black walnut," I answered savagely. "We only have vanilla, chocolate, strawberry."

"I know. I heard you the first time. But will you look and see what else you got?"

"I know what I have. We only have vanilla, choc—"

"All right, I'll take a candy bar,"

Girls' League Play

WITH Dorothy Mary McCune and Coretta Graham in the leading roles of shy spinster and brave explorer, respectively, the Girls' League presented its annual play, "The Widow in Green," on November 18.

The plot depicted the complicated love affair of an American maiden living in a gossipy English village.

The cast included Dorothy McCune, Coretta Graham, Mary Marsh, Marion Felberg, Aileen Leslie, Geraldine Behm, Marie Overton, Helen Lockwood, Josephine Williams, Helen Wilson, and Marjory Coleman.

Armistice Day Play

Paying tribute to participants in the World War, one of the most impressive programs of the year was given in an assembly on November 10 in celebration of Armistice Day.

The program was featured by an impressive pageant, presented by the dramatics classes under the direction of Mrs. Doty. The cast included Florita Kirk, Ted Ford, Alec Ball, Garnet Brower, Robert Graves, Loring Day, Robert Chess, Helen Leonard, Bette M. Elliot, George Clayton, Billy Marshall, and Norbert Bundschuh.

Vocational Departments

DOMESTIC SCIENCE

The purpose of the domestic science course is primarily to fit girls to be good home-makers, but it also opens up unlimited fields for the feminine wage-earner. The clothing section of this course, in charge of Miss Grace Russell, is equipped with modern sewing machines, a fitting room, and cutting tables. In the cooking section, of which Mrs. Grace Fanning is head, are ten up-to-date gas and electric ranges, an electric refrigerator, and a fully equipped dining room, aside from various incidental apparatus. The weaving room contains looms on which the girls fashion colorful scarfs, rugs, and purses. Miss Russell is the teacher.

In addition to these courses which are valuable for the practical experience which they afford, there is a course in home-making which all high school girls are now required to take in order to graduate.

MANUAL TRAINING

The manual training department includes the machine, wood, and printing shops, in charge of Mr. Hester, Mr. Parmalee, and Mr. Goodwin, respectively. Here the boys get practical experience in repairing machinery, constructing model airplanes and various articles of furniture, and in setting type. In addition to the Wildcat, the printing students put out programs for assemblies and public performances.

In the machine shop are engines, motors, steel lathes, forges, and special parts for the aeronautics work. The wood shop is equipped with saws — plain, band, and circular — wood lathes, and planers. The print shop has boxes of type, presses, and various other machines.

COMMERCIAL

The commercial department, since it prepares so many students for the business world, is very complete. In the typing room, there are about thirty typewriters—in the bookkeeping room, a model bank complete with money and checks. For stenography, commercial blank books are bought to be filled with dictation.

Miss Mary Thorne, Mr. Roland Watenpaugh, Mr. E. E. West, and Mrs. Gertrude Morgan are commercial teachers.

MECHANICAL DRAWING

The mechanical drawing room is fully equipped for future draftsmen with drawing tables and complete blue-print apparatus. Here, the boys make various miniature plans and get practice for the pattern-making profession. Mr. Roy Eller is the instructor.

AGRICULTURE

The course in agriculture is not only beneficial to the students taking it but is also helpful to the school, since the students of this department have planted and are planting most of the shrubs on the school campus. These students also take care of the chapparell. The course in agriculture includes the study of all kinds of plants and the general study of the agricultural system used in Monrovia. Mr. Wesley Steiner is the teacher.

Football Season

COACH Eugene McAllister started his coaching regime at M.A.D. by presenting a football machine that crushed out two victories out of five league starts. One could say, however, that most of the power of the machine could be attributed to that flashy, compact bundle of lightning, Bill Presley. Scoring all of the thirty points chalked up by the team during league competition, this spectacular triple-threat flash got quite a name for himself in the league circles.

The Cats started the league season on the wrong foot, as they were given a complete shut-out by the Whittier Cardinals, who dumped the locals to a bitter 20-0 defeat. The cats recovered in time from such brutal treatment to come through by the skin of their teeth, winning a breathtaking 3-0 victory over Hoover. The Wildcats suffered a relapse in the next week's encounter when the South Pasadena Tigers tramped rudely on the Feline toes with a 7-6 win. Ashamed of such treatment, Monrovia took out its spirit of revenge on the hapless Burbank team 21-8. The traditional battle with Tech, which closed the 1932 season, resulted in a heartbreaking loss as that lean Terrier, George Anderson, romped ninety yards for the sole score to carry the bacon back to the Terrier kennel. The lettermen were Ford, Hunt, Knoble, Larson, H. Mecke, U. Mecke, Presley, Schallert, Stackhouse, St. Clair, Sveinson, Thurman, Tucker, Way, Wilson, Captain Olson, and Manager Boyd.

CLASS B FOOTBALL

The Kittens, guided by the extremely capable hand of R. V. Wat- enpaugh, managed to steer through a difficult season by walloping two schools and tying Muir Tech, Foot- hill League champions, receiving only two defeats in return.

These two defeats came at the first of the season with Whittier winning 7-0 on a fluke, and Hoover following suit by taming the Kittens 18-0. This aroused the ire of the frenzied Cats, who swamped South Pasadena 18-0, and then ran rampant over the cowed Burbank Pups with a 27-0 victory. The now glorified Cats finished their season by tying the erstwhile un- defeated Tech Terriers 0-0 in a hec- tic struggle. The lettermen were Mc- Kee, McIntire, Morimoto, Myers, Sandlin, D. Scott, R. Scott, Smith, Tsuneishi, Valenzuela, Baker, Dollar, Day, Eller, Evans, Ellis, Hashimoto, Hicks, Hounihan, Irons, Livernash, and Captain Bundschuh.

CROSS COUNTRY

With a small band of five Spartans turning out for cross-country, Coach Murray's efforts to turn out a win- ning team went for naught, as the Monrovia harriers fell before the stal- wart leather-lungers from the other schools, and ended at the bottom of the loop with nary a victory. The lettermen were Roine, Salisbury, Haynes, Moeller, and Captain Keens.

THE MONROVIAN

Commencement again, and again we must bid farewell to our friends, the seniors. For four years we have been accustomed to meet them in the halls, in the classroom, on the athletic field or, perchance, in the office. We trust their association with us has been profitable to them and, as they go forward to their new adventure, whether it be in college, in business or in the home, our best wishes go with them.

Commencement again and another milestone is passed. This year has been one of triumphs and failures as all years will be, but both successes and failures have their value from an educational viewpoint and it is my hope that our mistakes and achievements of this year will spur us on to greater effort in the year just ahead.

Best wishes for a happy vacation.

A. K. WILSON.

To Our High School Students:—

The nations of the world are today learning slowly and painfully that neither individual nor national selfishness really pays, and that only by uniting in efforts that shall be for the good of all can they hope to pull the world out of the morass of confusion into which it has fallen. How can you, our future citizens, learn this truth here and now? You can prepare your lessons thoroughly, not for the sake of grades, but that you may become intelligent citizens. You can cheerfully observe our rules so that the progress of our school shall not be hindered. You can help to preserve the beauty of our buildings and grounds and so prevent unnecessary expense. You can fulfill any special duty or office bestowed upon you, not for your own glory, but for the glory and honor of the entire student body.

Yours for co-operation,

GRACE A. OSBORNE.

Boy's League Play

"The Tower Room Mystery," a mysterious and spooky three-act play, was presented by the Boys' League on February 3 in the weird atmosphere of a dark, musty room in a medieval castle, where monster spiders, bats, and the howls of wolves abounded.

In the cast were Ivan Wilson, Henry A. Smith, Bill McGowan, Norbert Bundschuh, Ted Ford, Alec Ball, George Evans, Charles Renshaw, Charles Wetmore, Robert Boyd, Dwight Kelly, and Loring Day.

X-mas Play

"Why the Chimes Rang," an impressive one-act play, was the highlight of a Christmas program given before the student body on December 15. The same play, with a different cast, was given in the evening for the general public.

The casts were made up of members of Mrs. Doty's dramatics classes. Members of the "Nine and Nine" acted as the choir in the cathedral scene and furnished the music for the production.

WINTER CLASS

CONTRARY to the opinion that the mid-term graduating class is rather insignificant, this year's class included several persons outstanding for their various activities. Joe Sveinson received the T. C. Rogers award, which is given each year to the senior boy who has the best athletic, citizenship, and scholarship record. Several of the other boys also gained recognition for themselves by their athletic and dramatic prowess. Anna Karp, who sang at the Associated Students' meetings several times and who had the feminine lead in the operetta, "Pickles," also was a member of this class.

One of the first duties of the class after its organization was the selection of a class ring or pin. After considerable discussion, the class decided in favor of a handsome gold monogram ring. The announcements for graduation were printed at the school print shop, largely under the direction of Joe Sveinson.

The usual custom of senior ditch-day was observed by the class at Ice-house Canyon, January 12. What with tobogganning, dancing, snowballing, and the expected number of casualties, everyone managed to have a good time.

At the commencement exercises Thursday morning, January 26, twenty graduates received their diplomas. Reverend Canon E. B. Smith offered the invocation. Mr. Scott's combined junior and symphony orchestra played a small suite from the operas of Gluck. Mr. George C. Bush, president of the County Board of Education and Superintendent of the South Pasadena Schools, gave the address. His talk, altho intended mainly to be inspirational to the graduates, proved equally interesting to all who heard it. Following the address, Anna Karp sang a solo. The class was presented by Mr. J. Warren Ayer, Superintendent of Schools. Dr. A. L. Smith, president of the Board of Education, awarded diplomas to the following: Edith Theresa Anderson, Madge Doreen Detrick, Florence Adelaide Eberly, Freda Mae Hubener, Mutsumi Iwamura, Anna Karp, Mary Earlene McKinney, Ruth Alison Peckham, Donald Hillmore Finn, Teddy Alfred Ford, Fred William Hicks, Louis Henry Kniep, Helmut William Mecke, John Henry Myers, Harold Robey, J. Fred Russell, Roy Giltner Spafford, Joe Sveinson, Albert Harold Tuttle, Lester G. Wagner.

The class officers were Lester Wagner, president; Mary McKinney, secretary-treasurer, and Miss Marjorie Hitchcock, class adviser.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

IT CERTAINLY has been a pleasure to have served as Student Body President for the first semester. Through the splendid cooperation of the students, the student body affairs were successful. We are facing a critical period in the history of school administration, and my greatest hope is that student affairs will be able to continue as they have in the past.

I extend my best wishes to next year's president, and I hope that he will have a successful year.

I always will cherish the memory of my senior year in high school as one of my fondest. I wish to extend my best wishes to my fellow classmates, and I hope that they will be successful in whatever they endeavor to do.

—Norbert Bundschuh.

Club Activities

*S*IX members of the Scholarship Society received their C.S.F. pins at a meeting of the Associated Students, February 22. To be a gold seal graduate, one must have belonged to the Scholarship Society at least six semesters, one of which must have been in the senior year. Marion Felberg, Anna Marjorie Loomis, Mary Hope Wood, Mercedes Langlie, Carl Ballentine, and Elmer Larson were the students honored.

The purpose of the World Friendship Club is to promote a feeling of international understanding and friendliness toward students of other nations. At the December meeting of the club, Louis Arens spoke about Germany and her pre-war school system. His talk was instructive, as well as interesting.

Robert D. Finlayson, a World War veteran, told some experiences of his while in the British army, at a meeting of the club, February 28.

Forty-five enthusiastic students banded together in January to enjoy new adventures in the land of Beauty, and organized the Art Club. At the first meeting of the year in January, the following officers were elected: Annetta Lytle, president; Helen Leonard, vice-president; Nedra Coleman, secretary, and Joe Craig, treasurer. Miss Chess is the faculty adviser.

On February 16 the club journeyed to Exposition Park, where the members visited the museum and art exhibits.

In the second quarter the Block M sponsored a dance, which was held at the Monrovia Woman's Clubhouse, November 24, in celebration of the Monrovia-Muir Tech Thanksgiving Day football game. The dance was open to students of Monrovia and Muir Tech High Schools, and each school was well represented. Contrary to custom, alumni members were not admitted. The dance was a success and proved one of the highlights of the 1932-33 school year.

In the second quarter, besides its regular meetings, the Monrovia Hi-Y was host to the San Gabriel valley Hi-Y Conference, held a wiener bake in the San Gabriel wash, and had a day's outing in the snow at Camp Baldy. The highlight of the second quarter was Girls' Night. Members brought their girl friends and after supper took them to a show.

During the winter months, the Circle M held several business meetings. Members, along with those of the G.A.A., attended the play-day at South Pasadena in February.

Since all the members also belong to the G.A.A., the Circle M takes part in practically all the activities of the G.A.A. The Circle M, however, is a restricted organization and, at the present time, has only fourteen members.

Mrs. Yenney is the adviser.

A large representation from the G.A.A. attended the play day at South Pasadena High School in February. Girls from the different high schools in the district also were at the meet, and participated in such events as volleyball, tennis, marching, and posture parades.

With Alice Gregory as manager of the winter sport, basketball, the customary period and class games were played off. A "spread" was held after the last game.

For the Junior Hi-Y, the second quarter was more eventful. Besides the regular meetings, the club held a joint meeting with the Arcadia Junior Hi-Y, devoted one night to boxing matches between the boys, and had as a speaker, "Dink" Walker, former Monrovia coach. As a fitting close to the semester's activities, a banquet was held January 26, at the home of Mr. Beckner, the club's adviser.

Musical Activities

THE Boys' and Girls' Glee Clubs and "Nines," under the direction of Mrs. Frances Potts and Mr. Chester Van Hellen, have completed a most successful and busy year. The groups have sung on various occasions throughout the year and have appeared on several assembly programs.

The combined glee clubs and chorus gave a musical prologue for the Christmas pageant, "Why the Chimes Rang," at an assembly December 15, and again at night for the public. The prologue consisted of appropriate Christmas songs by the glee clubs and several well known carols by the glee clubs and chorus combined. The cathedral choir in the play was composed of the Girls' and Boys' "Nines."

In March, the Boys' and Girls' "Nines" presented a program at the Frances De Paw School for Spanish Girls in Hollywood. Florence Loomis and Anna Karp were the soloists at this program.

In the same month, the Nine Girls sang at the evening service of the Pasadena Calvary Baptist Church, on the invitation of Mr. Edward Novis. The Nine Girls were as follows: Shirley Vitt, Katherine Van Hellen, Geraldine Shaw, first sopranos; Florence Loomis, Helen Lockwood, Barbara Miles, second sopranos; Iris Eckleberry, Mary Ann Gierlich, and Persis Kent, altos. The girls also sang at the Easter sunrise service on Mt. Oakwood.

In April, the two glee clubs gave a program at both the Duarte Grammar School and the Davis School. Florence Loomis, Robert Gordon, and Mike Cherry were the solists on these two programs. In May, the clubs presented a similar program at the Arcadia Grammar School. On these occasions, Mr. Van Hellen introduced the principals in the operetta.

The Boys' Nine appeared on the program of the Mother, Daughter, and Sons' Banquet at the Baptist Church, May 12. The boys were Jim Hodge, Robert Ryan, Bill Lockwood, Mike Cherry, George Evans, Arthur Briggs, Jack Draper, Bob Swain, and Galen Shaul.

Both glee clubs took part in the annual music festival, given during National Music Week, May 12. The Girls' Glee Club sang a group of two songs, "Butterfly" and "An Old-Fashioned Garden." During the latter, a couple dressed in old-fashioned costume, promenaded before the audience. The boys' number was "The Red Man's Death Chant." The combined glee clubs sang one song, "The Postillion."

The climaxing event of the year for the glee clubs was the operetta, "Pickles" or "In Old Vienna," which was given Thursday afternoon, May 25, and Friday night, May 26. The principals in the operetta were as follows: Anna Karp as Ilona, the gypsy girl; Harry Wharton as Mr. Jones, advertising expert; Robert Gordon as a young American artist; Katherine Van Hellen as the pickle king's daughter; Norbert Bundschuh as the pickle king himself; Shirley Vitt as the "dreamy, schemey widow"; Arthur Briggs as the keeper of the Wurtzelpraeter Inn; Mike Cherry as the gypsy chieftain; Geraldine Shaw as the Swedish maid; Ray Hunt as head of the secret service of Vienna, and Carter Keen and Jim Hodge as the two sleuths, Bumski and Rumski.

Don't You Remember

When Mr. Roosevelt and Mr. Hoover were calling each other names (polite ones of course), and we kept hearing about a "new deal" and "the forgotten man."

When the good old terra firma turned out to be not so firma, and everyone was telling stories about "where I was when the earthquake happened."

When the Barrymores, all three of them, were in one picture, and everyone raved (even the director).

When Technocracy was the subject of debates and arguments, and we all dreamed about loafing and earning $20,000 a year.

When the bankers took a vacation (no wages), and we got a one-day holiday from school.

When Japan felt some growing pains, reached out for a hunk of China, and told the League of Nations to take a "run and jump."

When Hitler decided to tell Mussolini to "shove over, I want some of that spotlight," and the world clicked its tongue over the fate of poor Germany.

When the farmers got riled and decided to do something — so they organized.

When we went off the gold standard, and everybody was trying to explain to everybody else just what inflation meant, and nobody really knew.

When the girls turned coy and donned ruffles and bows and puffed sleeves and curls and decided it was lots of fun to be a clinging vine.

And Marlene Dietrich, just to be different, got herself lots of free publicity by donning trousers.

So Wheeler and Woolsey said "what's sauce for the goose, etc." and put on skirts.

When Ford put out a V-8 that looked like a cross between a Rolls Royce and a Hispano-Suiza.

When Joan and Doug parted company.

When everybody and his dog took to riding bicycles because Mildred Lloyd said it was good for reducing.

When the high and mighty senior A's donned skates and got their knees scratched up.

When 3.2% became legal, and everybody started to practice "Sweet Adeline."

When all of the Olympic champions decided that what the movies needed was more brawn, and Tarzan pictures became the rage.

When all the newspaper reporters nearly died of shock because Garbo broke her Sphinx-like silence.

When linen suits and organdie dresses were the thing to wear.

When Monrovia, after keeping everyone in suspense, decided that beer was O.K.

When spring forgot to spring and all the old timers said, "This weather is very unusual for this time of year."

When jig-saw puzzles were the rage and then went the way of miniature golf and Technocracy.

When George Bernard Shaw made Ann Harding cry.

When J. P. Morgan got caught chiselling the government, and the Senate uncovered a "scandal."

When the chickens lost their feathers and the trees their leaves in the tornado down south.

Volleyball

Winning all the games played, the freshman girls won the championship in volleyball this year. The team included Frances Powell, captain, Bianca Stefano, Flora Christopher, Doris Demblon, Neva Sible, Kathleen Baker, Eleanor Thatcher, Eleanor Hunter, Wilda Wand, Joan Sanders, Katherine Dahl, Mary Del Smith, Georgette Schaller, Florence Buchanan, Myrle Scott, Margarite Dolde, and Ruth Wilson.

Of the period teams, made up of the outstanding players in each gym class, second period was champion.

Basketball

Again the freshmen shone in girls' sports by winning the basketball championship from the upperclassmen. This team, also, succeeded in winning all of the three games played. The players were Lucille Willis, Frances Powell, Bianca Stefano, Flora Christopher, Kathleen Baker, Eleanor Thatcher, Georgette Schaller, Dana Bailey, Neva Sible, Katherine Dahl, Mary Del Smith, Margarite Dolde, and Doris Colby.

The second period won first place among the period teams.

Basketball Season

CLASS A BASKETBALL

THE end of this year's competition found the Wildcat Varsity roosting in the cellar with nary a victory. The locals, under the guidance of Coach McAllister, faced the toughest competition ever seen before in Foothill League basketball circles. This statement could be illustrated by the fact that Herbert Hoover defeated Glendale, big Coast League threat, twice by big scores, while Monrovia pressed the Hoover five hard in both of the league games the Ex-President barely stealing the shows.

The Cats started off the season by dropping the first game to Whittier 32-15. This defeat was followed by a battle with Hoover which resulted in a 37-30 victory for the Ex-Presidents. Monrovia received the same treatment from South Pasadena, who tripped the locals 30-21. Burbank repeated the performance by taking the Varsity 22-7. The Techsters aided in the Cats' downfall with a 35-27 shellacking.

The second round brought no hope to the Wildcats as Whittier and Hoover nipped the locals 36-26 and 34-20, respectively. South Pasadena, Burbank, and Tech completed the taming of the Felines with the following scores: South Pasadena 32, Monrovia 28; Burbank 29, Monrovia 20; Muir Tech 53, Monrovia 34.

The lettermen were Captain Olson, Mecke, Clark, Heller, Lindell, Silcott, Stackhouse, Valenzuela, Wilson, and Manager Larson.

CLASS B BASKETBALL

McAllister's B team managed to cop three out of ten games during the league season, finishing the season one step above the cellar champs from Burbank. The team failed to click in most games, the Kittens being taken in tow by the Whittier, Hoover, and Tech fledglings by big scores in both rounds. A fighting spirit enabled them to defeat the South Pasadena Tigerettes 25-24, and then to squelch the Burbank Spudgers twice, 29-27 and 26-24. The lettermen were Hicks, Larimer, Larson, McKee, Nunn, Page, Spratt, Captain Scott, and Manager Foster.

CLASS C BASKETBALL

Despite the skillful coaching of Coach Hollingsworth, the Monrovia Pee-wee squad barely managed to eke out a solitary win in a five-game schedule. The baby Felines were taken decisively into camp by the Whittier, Hoover, South Pasadena, and Tech mites. The solitary win came when the locals managed to thump the Burbank five 21-11. The lettermen were Hawthorne, Fishman, Haynes, Klein, McCormack, McNeal, Reese, Tsuneishi, Captain Lockwood, and Manager Wathey.

CLASS D BASKETBALL

Coach Hollingsworth's skill bore fruit as his D team copped the loop cage title for the first championship of its kind in M.A.D. history and the first in the school year. The team started the league schedule dethroning the Whittier mites, last year's champs, by a 17-13 score. Their season ended with a 21-8 walk-away from the Burbank Bull puppies. The lettermen were Coleman, Faust, Flannes, Zwiatkwske, Perkins, and Captain Cortese.

THE WILDCAT

THE WILDCAT is the high school's weekly publication. It is a small four-page newspaper edited by the junior English classes under the direction of Miss Loveless and printed by the printing students in the school print shop, under the supervision of Mr. Goodwin. The Wildcat is supported by the advertising done on its pages by Monrovia and Arcadia merchants.

The purpose of the Wildcat is two-fold. Primarily, it is to keep the students informed on the current topics and events taking place in the school and to serve as a chronicle of the school year. Secondly, it is to give those students who are interested in becoming journalists an opportunity to gain practical experience by serving on the editorial staff.

Marion Felberg was editor of the Wildcat during the fall semester and was succeeded in that position for the spring semester by Minnie Kroll. James Parsons, as secretary of publications, was responsible for the business management of the paper.

The Wildcat is a member of the Southern California Scholastic Press Association and sent delegates to both the fall and spring conventions. At the fall convention, it received the highest rating for good newspaper style. A delegation representing the Wildcat also attended the eleventh annual Newspaper Day at the University of Southern California.

Upon several occasions, the Wildcat has been a six-page paper. A special literary insert, edited by Helen Crosbie, was added early in the fall, and in the spring, an Easter number with the extra two pages devoted to advertising, was put out through the efforts of Elizabeth Knudsen. In the last quarter, a special senior edition was put out.

Because of illness, Miss Loveless was forced to leave school in the last semester, and Miss Wittler took her place as journalism adviser.

It might be stated that only through the unceasing and untiring efforts of Miss Loveless and Mr. Goodwin, assisted by Omer Bailey, was it made possible for the Wildcat to be published each week.

CLIMAXING an extremely successful season of dramatic achievements, the senior class presented "Our Children," a three-act comedy drama, before an enthusiastic audience in the high school auditorium on March 24, under the direction of Mrs. Carolyn Doty.

The cast gave one of the most polished performances that has ever been given in Monrovia; indeed, the quality of the work was most unusual for a high school production.

Norbert Bundschuh was especially well fitted for his portrayal of the stubborn but well-meaning German, Willie. Robert Scott, likewise, gave a very finished performance in the role of Stasi, a person the exact opposite of Willie.

The plot dealt with these two different Germans' trials in bringing up their children amid the fast-moving life of America.

The cast of characters: Willie, Norbert Bundschuh; Theodore, James Parsons; Hertha, Marjory Coleman; Stasi, Robert Scott; Richard, Robert Gordon; Rosie, Dorothy Leslie; Hutton, Robert Graves, Harriet, Betty Wathey; Sophy, Minnie Kroll; Leland, Andrew Carnahan; Carter, David Gere.

THE CURTAIN," a dramatic one-act play filled with pathos, was presented before the entire student body in the auditorium on Tuesday, February 18. The plot centered around the homecoming of an escaped convict, Norton, to the shabby apartment of his daughter. The daughter, Ruth, believing her father innocent, was stunned when he confessed his guilt. After discovering that she had been lying to him to spare him anxiety, he made her promise to tell the absolute truth from that time on.

The play ended as Ruth decided to tell the truth as she had promised and turned her father over to the police who were searching for him. Norbert Bundschuh gave an excellent portrayal of the convict with his deep voice and fine character acting.

"The Curtain" was Monrovia's entry in the annual Pasadena Community Playhouse contest but failed to qualify for the finals. In the cast of characters were Norbert Bundschuh, Helen Lockwood, Florita Kirk, Edwin James, James Ross, and George Clayton.

Seasonal Music

The high school instrumental music department, consisting of the bands and orchestras under the direction of Mr. Scott, has earned for itself a fine reputation in the community. It has been the aim of Mr. Scott to instill into his students the appreciation of and the ability to play really fine music. In this aim, he has been highly successful.

The instrumental music department is made up of three major organizations and several minor groups. The Symphony Orchestra, the Concert Band, and the Parade Band constitute the major organizations. In addition to these three, there is the Junior Orchestra and several string, woodwind, and brass ensembles. All are under the direction of Mr. Scott.

During the school year, the instrumental music department gave eleven major concerts. They were as follows: a band concert for the Boys' League; a band concert for the county meeting of the 4H clubs, held at Santa Anita; a band and orchestra concert at the County Teachers' Institute at El Monte; the band and miscellaneous ensembles at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium; a band concert in Arcadia and an orchestra concert in Monrovia on Armistice Day; an orchestra concert for the Boys' League; the band and miscellaneous ensembles in a program for the Student Body; an orchestra concert for the Student Body; the band, orchestra, and ensembles in programs at the El Monte and Puente Union High Schools, and a band concert for the East Pasadena American Legion.

The Parade Band is an organization made up of all the students in school that play band instruments. This group serves as a marching unit in parades and outdoor programs, and its purpose is more for display than for producing a fine quality of music. For performances, the Parade Band members are uniformed in white trousers, green capes, and green and white caps and are led by Mr. Pilmer. The Parade Band played and marched at all of the Monrovia football games and played for the pep assemblies. In addition to these, it performed for the Merchants' Association Christmas celebration, the Kiwanis Club Halloween party, the Arcadia American Legion Armistice Day parade, and the Monrovia Day parade.

Aside from the concerts of the bands and orchestras, the instrumental music department performed innumerable miscellaneous musical services. It provided orchestras, ensembles, and soloists for the Methodist Church, the 10A English class reception, the Armistice Day program, the Arcadia Women's club, the Christmas Assembly, the Rotary Club, the Eastern Star, the Merchants' Association, the mid-year graduation, the Boys' League Play, the Girls' League Play, Senior Class Play, the Little Theater evening of one-act plays, Boys' and Girls' League meetings, the Washington Birthday Assembly, the Wildrose P.T.A., Public Schools Week, the Los Angeles County Rural Mail Carriers Association, the Mayflower P.T.A., the American Legion Auxiliary, the Y.M.C.A., the Flower Show, the Federated P.T.A., the operetta, "Pickles," the Memorial Day Assembly, and Commencement.

League Activities

THE MEETING of April 5, 1933, brought to a close a most successful year for the Girls' League, under the direction of Mary Marsh, president; Mary Jean Scott, vice-president; Dorothy Mary McCune, secretary, and Mary Elizabeth Price, treasurer.

"The Widow in Green," this year's league play, was presented Friday night, November 18. The play was a complete financial success, bringing in over one hundred dollars net profit. The cast was as follows: Dorothy McCune, a shy spinster; Coretta Graham, a brave explorer; Aileen Leslie, the maid; Helen Lockwood, a gossipy villager; Marjorie Coleman, the village parson; Marion Felberg, the old gardener; Helen Wilson, a young English girl; Marie Overton, her lover; Mary Marsh, Louise; Josephine Williams, Mrs. Liddy, and Geraldine Behm, an American aristocrat.

Throughout the school year, the Girls' League has contributed considerable amounts to various charities, including the Orthopedic Hospital, the Red Cross, the Christmas tree fund, and needy families. The league also contributed for special welfare work, such as furnishing lunches and clothing to girls in school. A part of the amount for charities was included in the Aunt Kate Wright fund.

A party for the new girls and their big sisters was given at the beginning of each semester. After a program in the auditorium, the girls adjourned to the cafeteria for refreshments. Florence Loomis, as chairman of the social committee, planned the parties.

Miss Osborne, Mary Jean Scott, and Dorothy Mary McCune were the delegates to the fall convention of Girls' Leagues, held at the Eagle Rock High School, November 4 and 5. The spring convention was held at Pomona College, May 12. Miss Osborne, Mary Marsh, Mary Elizabeth Price, Florita Kirk, Dorothy Baker, Katherine Miller, and Coretta Graham were the delegates.

Under the direction of Florita Kirk, program chairman, several interesting and unusual programs were presented. Each class gave a program which was judged on a percentage basis by Mrs. Doty, Miss Chess, and Mrs. Yenney. The junior class, under the leadership of Coretta Graham, won the silver loving cup. The gym classes and one of the dramatics classes also presented programs.

THE BOYS' League is an organization of which every boy in school is a member. Its chief purpose is to promote fellowship and good spirit among the boys. The first meeting of the year was given over to the official business necessary for starting the League on a new year. The meeting following this was, as has been the custom for the past few years, given over to the Reverend Donald Stewart, who as usual told the boys a story. The most interesting meeting of the first quarter was a lecture and demonstration of gyroscopes by Professor Haustan of the California Institute of Technology.

In the second quarter, the Boys' League had three outstanding meetings. The first was a home talent program, consisting of numbers by several of the school's musical groups and two skits put on by the boys themselves. The second consisted of the showing of two reels of films from the Ford factory at Detroit. The third was an exchange program with the Girls' League, in which the girls put on a program for the boys in return for the home talent program the boys reproduced for the girls.

THE MONROVIAN

The biggest event in the chronicles of the League was the production of the Boys' League Play, "The Tower Room Mystery." The play was a mystery thriller, and as all the parts, including the feminine parts, were played by boys, it developed into a roaring comedy. The play was highly successful both from a dramatic and financial standpoint.

The third and fourth quarters were rather uneventful for the Boys' League. The best meeting of the two quarters was held in the bleachers on the football field and was devoted to boxing and wrestling matches between the boys. Several bloody noses and one knockout marked this meeting as a "rip snorter." It might also be mentioned that the League attempted a food drive to help the unemployed, but it was unsuccessful.

The officers of the Boys' League were Bill Thompson, president; Chas. Pirolli, vice-president; Sheldon Eller, secretary, and Frank McKee, treasurer. Mr. A. K. Wilson is the adviser.

Club Activities

THE SCHOLARSHIP SOCIETY sent Mary Marjorie Cassity, Bob Boyd, and Miss Dort as delegates to the district convention held at Pomona in April. The two Monrovia students had charge of one of the discussion groups. At the next meeting of the society, the delegates reported on the highlights of the convention.

Mrs. Mayhew, well-known painter and etcher, was the guest and speaker at a delightful lecture-tea given by the Art Club March 10, in the art room. In April, the club visited the Chouinard School of Art in Los Angeles and also went through Bullocks Wilshire store.

In the third quarter, the Monrovia Hi-Y was host to the El Monte Hi-Y at a dinner followed by a skating party in Pasadena. On May 2, the annual father and son banquet, sponsored by the Y Men's Club, at the Presbyterian Church, took the place of the regular Hi-Y meeting on that date.

In March, the G.A.A. held a skating party at a Pasadena rink. Ten delegates attended a play-day at Pomona in May. Marian Trisler, Margaret Dorsey, Mary Marsh, and Miss Carbaugh were representatives at the convention held at Herbert Hoover High School, May 6.

Katherine Mothershead was manager for the baseball season.

At the March meeting of the World Friendship Club, several members read letters from their correspondents in other countries. In this way, the club as a whole was able to benefit by these letters.

Japan, Her Customs and People, was the subject of Miss Grace Russell's talk at the April meeting.

In March, the Circle M sponsored a skating party in Pasadena for members of the G.A.A. At a later business meeting of the club, members voted to present a silver loving cup to the girl with the highest number of points. A progressive bicycle party also was scheduled for May.

~ : ~

In the third quarter, the Junior Hi-Y held, besides its regular weekly meetings, a weiner bake at Emerson Flats and another joint meeting with the Arcadia Junior Hi-Y. The prominent speaker in the quarter was Reverend Stewart. The officers of the second semester were Ralph Fishman, president; Harry Baker, vice-president; John Strong, secretary, and Bill Marshall, treasurer.

The officers of the Block M for this year were George Allison, president; George Thurman, vice-president; Charles Pirolli, secretary; Bob Boyd, treasurer, and Alec Ball, historian. Coach McAllister is the sponsor of the club.

In this quarter, the Block M held one meeting, at which Mr. Ayer delivered a short talk.

Track Season

The varsity track team, under the skillful coaching of Coach Verl Murray, terminated a most successful season by finishing in second place in league loop standings, second place in the league meet, fourth place in the Chaffey divisional meet, in which five leagues competed, eighth place in the Southern California meet, and twelfth in the State Finals.

The locals romped through their practice meets in fine shape, crushing their former San Gabriel League rivals. Montebello fell before the ferocious Wildcats ( $88\frac{1}{2}$ - $24\frac{1}{2}$ ), while El Monte fared but little better with a 63-41 score. Citrus, still one of Monrovia's staunchest rivals, was swamped by the score of  $83\frac{1}{2}$ - $38\frac{1}{2}$ .

In the league meets, the M.A.D. tracksters were defeated only by the championship Hoover squad, taking a  $62\frac{1}{2}$ - $50\frac{1}{2}$  beating. The Wildcats, in turn, inflicted defeats on Whittier ( $65\frac{1}{2}$ - $47\frac{1}{2}$ ), on South Pasadena ( $72\frac{1}{3}$ - $40\frac{2}{3}$ ), on Burbank (71-42), and, ending the season, squelched Muir Tech (69-44).

Bill Presley, Murray's most talented protege, and the one-man Monrovia team in the State Finals, as well as lowering the school record in the hundred yard dash, also placed second in the low hurdles and fourth in the high hurdles in the State Finals, cracking the school records for both events, which were held formerly by himself. Dimitry lowered the 880 yard run record down to 2:04.5. The relay team, composed of Pirolli, Evans, Russell, and Presley, lowered the school record for the relay to 1:33.4. Ray Turnbull, in the new event, the football throw, heaved the pigskin 183 feet 5 inches for a new record.

The lettermen are Manager Sparks,

Toothaker, Parsons, De Groot, Lindell, Evans, Harvey, Valenzuela, Silcott, Keens, Russell, Eller, Turnbull, Bullock, Dimitry, Pirolli, Olson, Presley, and Captain George Allison.

The lightweights, also tutored by Coach Murray, had a very disastrous season ending the schedule next to the cellar in fifth place, chalking up a single victory.

The solitary victory was eked out by a narrow margin from a weak Whittier squad ( $53\frac{1}{2}$ - $51\frac{1}{2}$ ). Every school, after this first victory, swamped the unfortunate Cats. They were taken by Hoover (86-18); by South Pasadena ( $57\frac{3}{5}$  -  $46\frac{2}{5}$ ); by Burbank (56-48); and by Muir Tech ( $81\frac{7}{12}$  -  $22\frac{5}{12}$ ).

The lettermen are Manager Woodle, McGuire, Fletcher, McNeal, Franco, Spratt, Van Horn, Willis, Sandlin, Braithwaite, Irwin, McKee, V. Larson, and Loring Day, Honorary Captain.

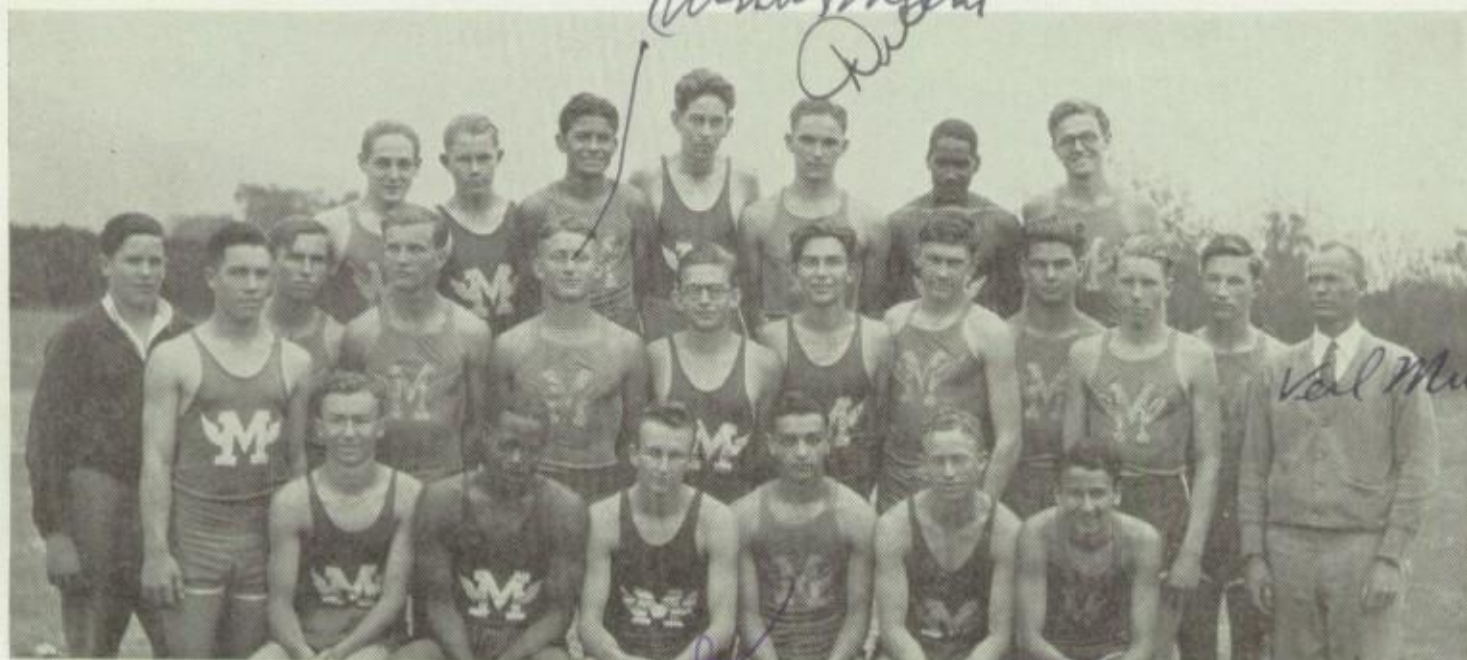

Coach Murray's Class C spikeesters followed in the footsteps of the Varsity squad, finishing in second place in league track standings and dropping only one dual meet.

The sole defeat was at the hands of a marvelous Hoover squad who trounced the locals decisively ( $68\frac{2}{3}$ - $17\frac{1}{3}$ ). Previously, the locals had subdued the tough Whittier babes (49-37). Following the set-back by Hoover, the Peewees recovered in time to swamp South Pasadena ( $64\frac{2}{3}$ - $21\frac{1}{3}$ ), Burbank (65-12), and, climaxing a successful season, nosed out Tech (47-30).

The lettermen are McGowan, manager, Hudson, Joyce, Wood, O. Zimmerman, W. Zimmerman, Pfaff, Edinger, Kwiatkowski, Klein, Vogel, and Capt. Tsuneishi.

SUMMER CLASS

There are three outstanding events that every senior class of Monrovia High sponsors. They are the Senior-Junior Prom, the Senior Class Play, and Senior Ditch Day. Aside from these three traditional events, the activities of a senior class are limited very much to business matters, such as selecting class rings, investigating colleges, and arranging all the many little details connected with a graduation, that concern none but the members of the class. In these respects, the history of the class of '33 differs but little from those of its predecessors.

The Senior-Junior Prom, sponsored by the senior class and paid for by it, at which the juniors were guests, was held at the Monrovia Women's Clubhouse on January 13, 1933. Aside from the fact that the orchestra was almost an hour late, the dance went off without a hitch and was a huge success.

The senior class play, "Our Children," was performed in the high school auditorium, March 24, 1933. The play was popularly acclaimed as one of the best dramatic productions in the history of the school. Much of the credit for the success of "Our Children" must go to Mrs. Doty, the director.

At 9:55 on the morning of May 17, 1933, every member of the class of '33 walked out of his class and left for the day. It was Senior Ditch Day! The majority of the class went to Balboa beach, where the day was spent in swimming, riding, bicycling, playing ball, and acquiring the much-desired tan (?), and the night spent in dancing. Miss Rives, Mr. McClintic, and Mrs. F. Scott were the chaperones.

The class of '33, instead of leaving some present to the school, as has been the custom set by preceding classes, voted to leave what money was left in the treasury after the graduation expenses were paid, to the "Monrovia" fund, in order to insure a good annual.

The officers of the class of '33 were George Allison, president; Dorothy Leslie, vice-president; Dorothy Reardon, secretary, and Robert Scott, treasurer. To Miss Osborne, the class adviser, must go the credit for having guided the class thru a successful year and preparing it for graduation.

Club Activities

SCHOLARSHIP

One of the most interesting programs of the Scholarship Society in the summer quarter consisted of a play, "Evening-Dress indispensable," presented by members of the society.

The annual party was held at Balboa, Saturday, June 3. The members spent the day swimming, eating, and getting sun-burned. Miss Dort and several parents chaperoned.

WORLD FRIENDSHIP

Mrs. Morgan and four delegates from the local World Friendship Club attended the annual federation convention, held at Hollywood High, May 6. Ivan Wilson, Velma Dunn, Doris Barnard, and Cora Morgan represented the local organization. The theme of the convention was "The Place of the Radio, Newspaper, and Movies in International Affairs."

ART CLUB

One of the most delightful of the activities of the Art Club in the last quarter was a trip to the Huntington Library, May 19. The group left school fifth period and spent the afternoon in the gardens and art galleries of the famous library. Of special interest were the paintings, tapestries, furniture, and porcelains.

G. A. A.

The big event of the year for the G.A.A. was their annual banquet, June 2, at the Christian Church. At this time, the athletic awards and chevrons were awarded to the girls who had earned them.

Katherine Mothershead and Anita Stefano were the baseball and track managers respectively, who managed these two sports.

CIRCLE M

One of the most novel features of the Circle M this year was a progressive bicycling supper in May. Starting with fruit cocktail at Winifred Wood's home, the girls bicycled to Mrs. Yenney's for the entree and sandwiches. The salad was served at the home of Helen Leonard, and the dessert at Mary Marsh's.

HI-Y

The prominent meetings in the fourth quarter included a swimming party at Pasadena and Mothers' Night. A fine program and a swell dinner marked Mothers' Night as one of the outstanding meetings of the year. The officers of the Hi-Y were Robert Swain, president; Geo. Crozier, vice-president; Jack Draper, secretary; and Malcolm Miller, treasurer. Mr. Slick is the club sponsor.

JR. HI-Y

In the fourth quarter, the Junior Hi-Y's activities consisted of another swimming party at Pomona and a night devoted to boxing matches. Mr. McDonald was the speaker of the quarter, who spoke on "Keeping Fit." A program of music by local musical groups and tricks by Dwight Welch was the outstanding one of this quarter.

BLOCK M

The fourth quarter was rather uneventful for the Block M. Only one meeting was held, and it was for the purpose of collecting dues and arranging for the initiation of the track and baseball lettermen into the club. At the close of the school year, the membership of the Block M was comprised of approximately seventy-five athletes.

"PICKLES"

WITHOUT a doubt one of the most outstanding productions of its kind ever seen in Monrovia, "Pickles," an operetta in three acts, was presented on Friday evening, May 26, through the combined efforts of the dramatic and music departments.

Anna Karp gave an outstanding performance as Ilona, the gypsy girl. Harry Wharton convincingly played the humorous role of J. Jennison Jones, advertising expert de luxe.

Norbert Bundschuh, the "grand old man" of Monrovia dramatic productions, presented an amusing characterization of Jonas H. Pennington, proprietor of the "Peter Piper Pickles" establishment.

Robert Gordon, the American artist, and Katherine Van Hellen, daughter of the pickle magnate, made an excellent pair of young lovers.

The lighting, scenery, and stage sets were very effective. Especially beautiful was the setting for the gypsy camp in the second act, with a moonlit pool and brook of running water appearing on the stage.

The operetta was under the capable direction of Mr. Chester H. Van Hellen, Mrs. Frances C. Potts, and Mrs. I. E. Doty. Also assisting in the production were Miss Grace Russell, in charge of costumes, and Miss Edna Chess, who aided in designing the scenery.

The cast was as follows: Hans Maier, Arthur Briggs; Louisa, Geraldine Shaw; Captain Kinski, Ray Hunt; Bumski, Carter Keene; Rumski, James Hodge; J. Jenison Jones, Harry Wharton; Jigo, Mike Cherry; Ilona, Anna Karp; Arthur Crefont, Robert Gordon; June Pennington, Katherine Van Hellen; Jonas H. Pennington, Norbert Bundschuh; Lady Vivian Delancy, Shirley Vitt; Gypsy Dancer, Bonnie Fern Lamb.

The personnel of other special parts and choruses was made up of members of the gless clubs and cho-members of the glee clubs and chorus.

Baseball

AS THE ANNUAL goes to press, the Monrovia Wildcats seem scheduled to draw down another baseball championship.

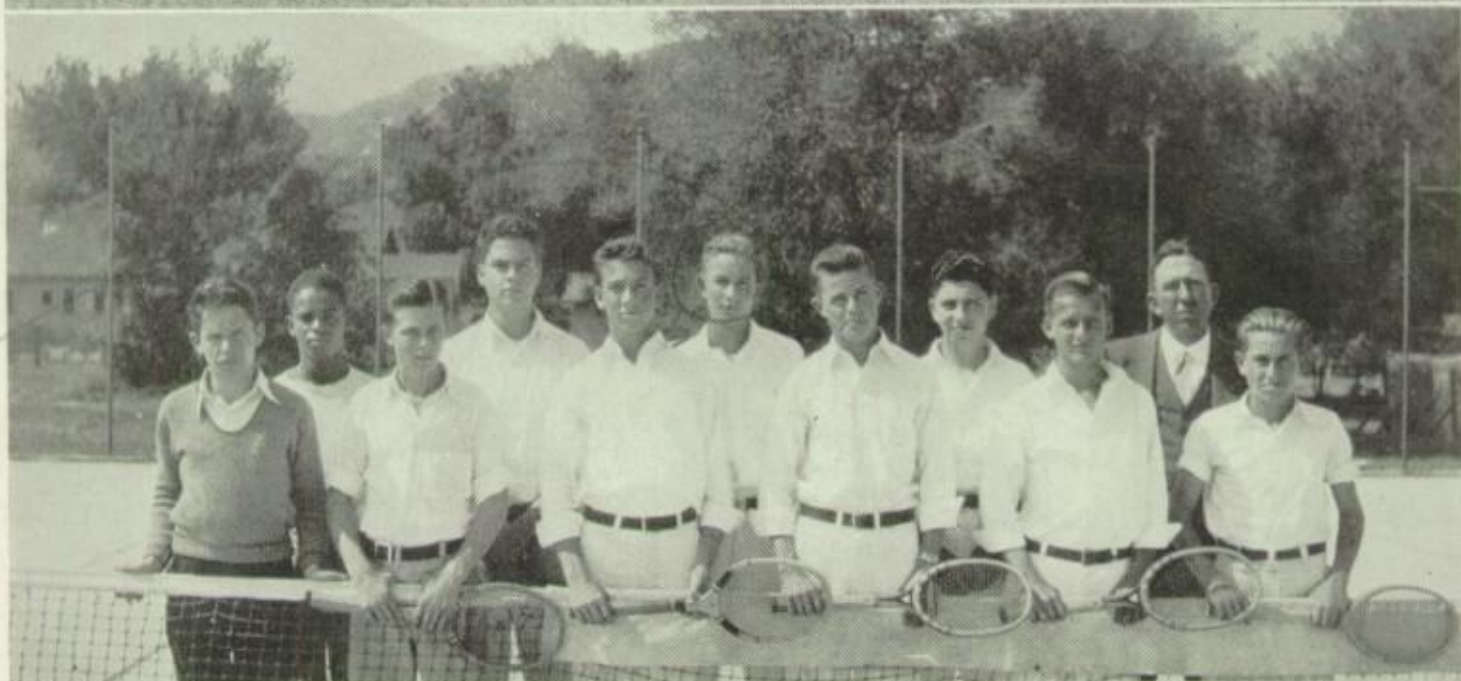

The local sluggers went to the quarter finals in the Pomona Tournament, being defeated by the San Diego nine, the winners. The Cats also represented the Foothill league in the C.I.F. play-offs, but lost their initial encounter 9-8 to Brea Olinda.

In the league opener, the Wildcats pounded out a 21-9 victory over Whittier. Hoover received similar treatment with a 19-9 shellacking, while South Pasadena was defeated 8-3. Muir Tech now is the only obstacle between Monrovia and their league championship, with the Terriers having a slight edge as the Annual goes to press.

Tennis

Evidently the two round schedule, which was started this year in tennis, agreed with the Monrovia tennis squad, as the net team ended its season in second place, dropping only two games to the invulnerable South Pasadena Tigers. The lettermen were Lusher, Crozier, Larrimer, Cowen, Irons, James, Warschaw, Ball, Captain Ross, and Manager Jacobson.

GIRLS' SPORTS

THE SOPHOMORE baseball team came out on top in girls' baseball and claimed this year's championship. They won all of their games and showed a lot of excellent playing. Members of the championship sophomore team were Margaret Morimoto, Anita Stefano, Lucille Moore, Vanessa Robey, Ruth Leonard, Grace McFarland, Velma Dunn, Pat Weed, Bianca Stefano, Ella Mae Cherry, Eleanor Hunter, and Mildred Polack.

Sixth period was victorious among the period teams.

The competition in which the sophomore team gained the championship in track this year consisted of one track meet in which the four class teams participated. The sophs came out on top with the freshmen second. The events which were competed in were basketball for distance, jump and reach, standing broad jump, 50 yard dash, basketball for accuracy, baseball for distance, hop step and jump, 75 yard dash, 220 yard relay, running broad jump, and the obstacle relay.
